

African American Private Practitioners in Behavioral Health

(AAPPBH) 2010 Directory

AFRICAN AMERICAN PRIVATE PRACTITIONERS IN BEHAVIORAL HEALTH 2010 DIRECTORY

The African American Private Practitioners in Behavioral Health (AAPPBH) has been approached by many public and private organizations, such as employee assistance programs (EAPs), insurance companies, social service agencies, educational, healthcare and mental health facilities, to provide services to their diverse clientele.

In response to these requests, we have developed this directory listing of private practitioners. The development of this directory has been long overdue. Its purpose is to make available to organizations, individuals and communities, a listing of current private practitioners or organizations who deliver quality and culturally sensitive behavioral health services.

The directory listings include only those individuals or organizations who are currently licensed practitioners.

For more information regarding being listed in this directory, you can contact: webmaster@aappbh.org or visit our website at www.aappbh.org.
